4. Disclosure for Business Purpose

In the preceding twelve (12) months, depending on the type of products and services you use, we may have disclosed the categories of personal information listed in number 1 above for a business purpose to the following categories of persons or entities:

- Our affiliates
- Our service providers and contractors
- Joint marketing partners
- Other persons or entities to whom you or your agents may direct us to intentionally interact or to which you may or direct us to intentionally disclose your personal information

In the preceding twelve (12) months, we have not sold any personal information that is subject to the CCPA, including personal information of minors under the age of 16. For purposes of this Privacy Notice for California Residents, "sold" means the disclosure of personal information to a third-party for monetary or other valuable consideration.

5. How Long We Retain Personal Information

The length of time that we intend to retain each category of personal information will depend on a number of criteria, including (i) the length of time we are required to retain personal information in order to comply with applicable legal and regulatory requirements, (ii) the length of time we may need to retain personal information in order to accomplish the business or commercial purpose(s) for which such personal information is collected, used or disclosed (as indicated in this Notice), and (iii) whether you choose to exercise your right, subject to certain exceptions, to request deletion of your personal information.

6. How We Use Sensitive Personal Information

We only use or disclose sensitive personal information for the following purposes consistent with CCPA Regulations provided that the use or disclosure is reasonably necessary and proportionate for those purposes:

- To perform the services or provide the goods reasonably expected by an average California resident who requests those goods or services. For example, a California resident's precise geolocation may be used by a mobile application that is providing them with directions on how to get to a specific location
- To prevent, detect, and investigate security incidents that compromise the availability, authenticity, integrity, or confidentiality of stored or transmitted personal information
- To resist malicious, deceptive, fraudulent, or illegal actions directed at the business and to prosecute those responsible for those actions. For example, we may use information about a California resident's ethnicity and/or the contents of email and text messages to investigate claims of racial discrimination or hate speech
- To ensure the physical safety of natural persons. For example, we may disclose a California resident's geolocation information to law enforcement to investigate an alleged kidnapping
- For short-term, transient use, including, but not limited to, nonpersonalized advertising shown as part of a California resident's current interaction with us
- To perform services such as maintaining or servicing accounts, providing customer service, processing or fulfilling orders and transactions, verifying a California resident's information, processing payments, providing financing, providing analytic services, providing storage
- To verify or maintain the quality or safety of a product, service, or device that is owned, manufactured, manufactured for, or controlled by us, and to improve, upgrade, or enhance the service or device that is owned, manufactured by, manufactured for, or controlled by us
- To collect or process sensitive personal information where such collection or processing is not for the purpose of inferring characteristics about a California resident

7. Your Right to Make Requests

If you are a California resident covered by the CCPA, you have the right to:

A. Receive this Privacy Notice for California Residents at or before the point of collection of your personal information

B. Request we disclose to you free of charge the following information covering the 12 months preceding your request

- The specific pieces of personal information we collected about you
- The categories of personal information we collected about you
- The categories of sources from which the personal information was collected
- The categories of personal information that we disclosed for a business purpose
- The categories of third parties to whom the personal information was disclosed for a business purpose
- Our business or commercial purpose for collecting your personal information

C. Request to delete personal information collected by us

- You have the right to request that we delete your personal information that we collected from you, subject to certain exceptions.

D. Request to correct inaccurate personal information that we maintain about you

E. Be free from unlawful discrimination for exercising any of your CCPA rights

8. How to Exercise your CCPA Rights

Methods: If you are a California resident, you may exercise the rights described above by submitting a request to us by one of the following methods:

Call us at: 844-961-1057

Visit us at: www.bankofoklahoma.com/privacyrequest

Information to include in the request:

- Provide sufficient information that allows us to verify you are the person about whom we collected personal information
- Describe your request with sufficient detail that allows us to properly understand, evaluate, and respond to it. For instance, state whether your request is to disclose information we have about you or delete information and identify the category or type of information that is the subject of your request.

Who can make the request:

You, an agent authorized to act on your behalf, or a guardian may make a verifiable consumer request related to your personal information. We may require proof of authorization and verification of identity directly from the person for whom the request is made. You may also make a verifiable consumer request on behalf of your minor child.

How often you can make a request:

You may make a verifiable consumer request to know or delete personal information twice within a 12-month period.

9. Our Process for Responding to Your Request

First, the CCPA requires us to determine that the request to know, correct or delete personal information is made by the consumer whose information is the subject of the request. This is referred to as a verifiable consumer request. We will acknowledge receipt of your request and let you know how long it will take to respond if we are able to verify your identity. We may need to ask you to provide additional information either to confirm your identity or to accurately respond to your request.

Once we have the information to verify and respond to your request, we will review it and determine what specific information about you should be returned to you in response to a request to know and what information must be deleted by us and our service providers in response to a request to delete.

We endeavor to respond to a verifiable consumer request within 45 days of its receipt. If we require more time (up to 90 days), we will inform you of the reason and extension period in writing. Any disclosures we provide will only cover the preceding 12-month period. The response we provide will also explain the reasons we cannot comply with a request, if applicable. We will select a format to provide your personal information that is readily useable and should allow you to transmit the information from one entity to another entity without hindrance.

We do not charge a fee to process or respond to your verifiable consumer request unless it is excessive, repetitive, or manifestly unfounded. If we determine that the request warrants a fee, we will tell you why we made that decision and provide you with a cost estimate before completing your request.
